

MHHRA Human Resources Scholarship Award

About the Scholarship

The purpose of the MHHRA Human Resources Scholarship is to promote and encourage the academic preparation for, and excellence in, the practice of healthcare human resources and help professionals attain the highest level of education possible. The scholarship award is $500.

Eligibility

Applicants must:

- be a student or current practitioner studying in an accredited program with a concentration in human resources at the undergraduate or graduate level, or enrolled in a certificate program affiliated with an academic institution;
- have successfully completed at least 30% of the course work towards a degree or certificate;
- have successfully completed 2 courses in human resources; and
- be an MHHRA and ASHHRA member or be recommended by an ASHHRA member

Applicant Procedure

Applicants must submit:

- a signed, completed application form (see below);
- a cover letter describing academic accomplishments, work accomplishments and career goals;
- copy of transcript;
- a confidential reference letter from a direct supervisor or faculty member with whom the applicant has completed one course; and
- a confidential reference letter from an ASHHRA member (non-ASHHRA member applicants only), indicating the qualities brought to the field of human resources including specific examples of applicant's contributions to excellence in human resources in pursuit of the degree.

Note: Only a complete application (including all the information listed above) will be eligible for consideration. All required materials should be submitted one time by the deadline listed on the application form.
